Mrs. Richardson
I have known you for awhile and I have really enjoyed every minute. You are one of the nicest people I know and you have been a great sponsor for the yearbook.
I can't wait until next year cause I hope that next years annual will be as good as this one if not better. It is interesting that I not only know you but also Ronnie Richardson.
You have been a great part of what encourages me to try to do my very best. You are my friend as well as my teacher. Stay as sweet and kind as you are and I'm sure that be happy.
Memories last as long as we want them to.

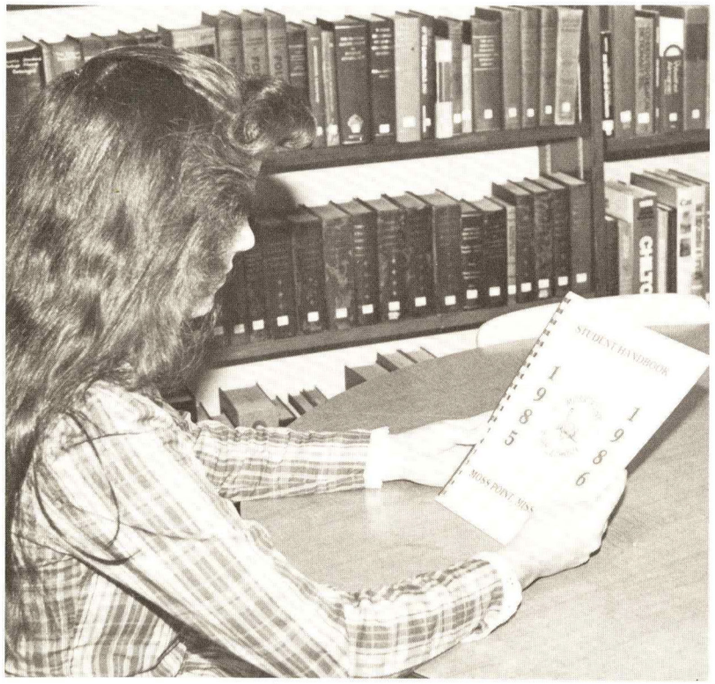
Ricky Cunningham was prepared when Coach Beene asked for a hall pass.

The lines and crowds did not stop us when it came time to eat.



Nita Phillips prepared for her handbook test while she had a few spare minutes during her hour in the library.

MAKING IT THROUGH WEEK NO. 1

All the lockers looked the same, but Kim Martin and Sandra Smith knew their own.

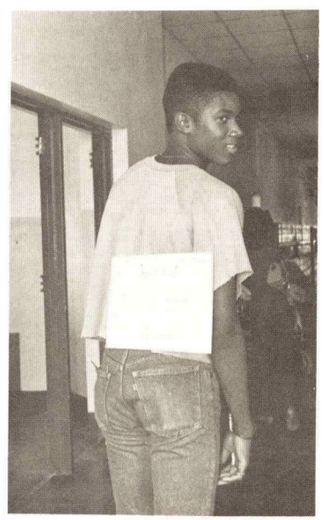
"Where's room 17? I've already gotten lost once today!" exclaims a worried sophomore.

"Oh, no! I have her again this year. I thought I would have someone else this year!" cries an unhappy junior.

"I can't wait until next year because I'm going to Harvard University," screams a sarcastic senior.

Those are a few of the things one would have heard if one had roamed the halls at Moss Point High during the first week of school.

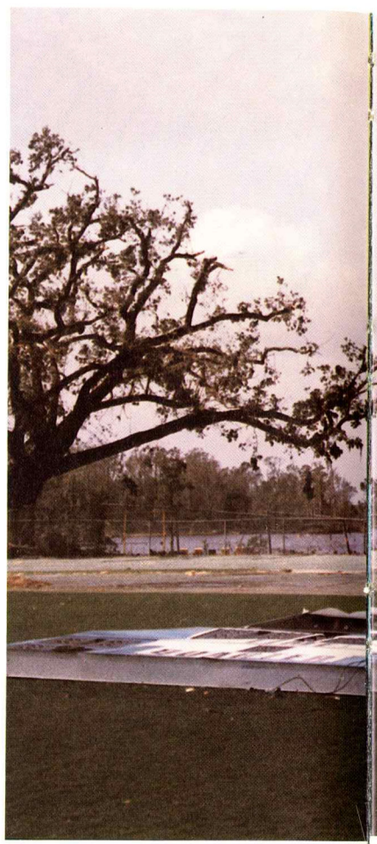
For sophomores, a new, big school was a lot to get used to; for juniors and seniors, however, it was the same old routine of going from class to class. Carrying books, rushing here and there, and loads of homework soon became the sophomores' way of life, for after the first week of school, the "good old daze of school" were well under way, with no end in sight.



Warwick Williams, like many other sophomores, found it difficult to get around the first week.

Mrs. Johnson's 2nd period seniors made themselves at home the first week of school.

TRACKS LEFT BY THE LADY WHO TOOK US BY STORM



We sat listening to the constantly changing coordinates of Elena over the battery-operated radio. The lights had been out for over an hour, and we could hear the wind ripping through the trees. She was blowing 120 MPH now, and her rain was pounding every structure in the town.

Things gradually got better, and the dark destructive winds turned into fluffy white clouds and sun. Weatherwise, the nightmare was over, but the clean-up that would follow would take months. People of all ranks joined in to help with the clean-up of the ravaged property, and soon things began to look better. Electric lights and telephones were restored, and the debris was cleaned up.

At MPHS, clean-up began almost immediately. The score-board was repaired, and the damage was assessed and repaired. After just two weeks, MPHS was ready and raring to accept a full house of fresh, rested students.

Coach Berry, Dr. Cronin, and Dr. Ayers watched as the mighty oak finally came down.

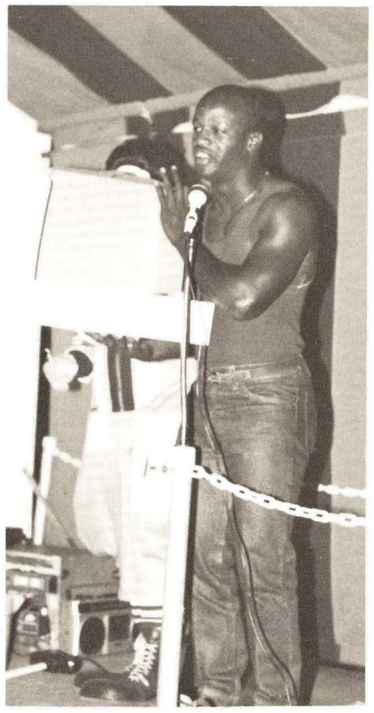
Our high school became a haven for many who were left homeless after the storm.

Coach Holmes, you would not have been looking for truant students at this time, would you?

The Tiger score-board felt the anger of Elena as the great Tiger toppled.

Clean-up began on our campus as soon as the storm let up.

SENIORS TRACK



Missie Carver, Jennifer Cunningham and Karla Thompson were Seniors with big smiles.

Mr. Mangum assisted his Sr. students with library research.

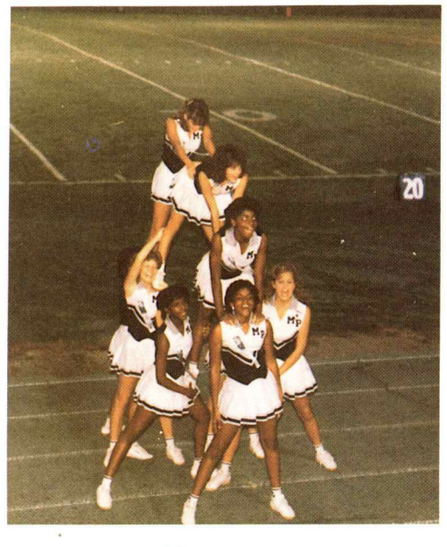
THEIR FUTURES

Being an upperclassman made for a fantastic year for Valissa McCorvey.

Senior Lora Riley faced the dreaded TERM PAPER!

TRACKS FOR SPIRIT

At the football games, the Cheerleaders helped to bring out the school spirit of all Tiger fans.



Paige Perkins eagerly awaited the halftime activities to show her spirit.

With pride, the band played the National Anthem as the flag was raised.

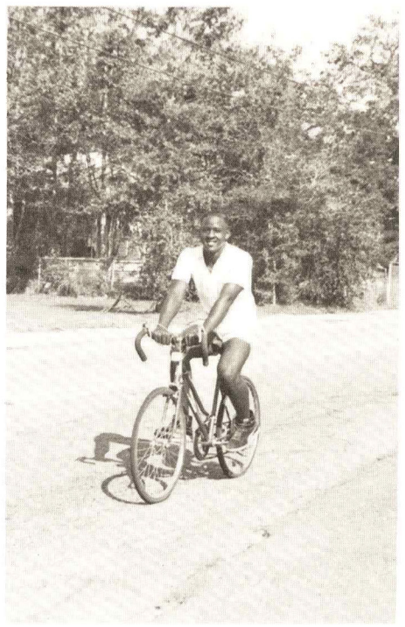
Spirit at MPHS was very well known this year. As students gathered in the gym on Friday for pep-rallies, the excitement could be felt blocks away. The students were led by the cheerleaders' many chants and cheers; the tremendous commotion rocked the roof. The band would then chime in with the latest hits such as "The Heat is On", which also described our team.

Our students really supported our Tigers this year. The game on Friday nights were jammed. MPHS spirit climaxed at the games which were so crowded one couldn't get to the concession without crushing some toes.

Hundreds of Moss Point High students made tracks to every game.

Keswic Joiner called the signals for a win against the Harrison Central Rebels.

Just how many people could this bug hold? Patrick Jackson, Carey Sims, Rodger Mann, Timmy Jackson and Yolanda Barner squeezed in to get to school.



Bicycling was one means of transportation to school.

Walking was the last resort for transportation.

THE TRACKS WE MADE TO SCHOOL

It was 8:15 and all the good parking spaces were taken.

Rene Corley and other students eagerly awaited the 3:15 bell, getting on the bus, and heading home.

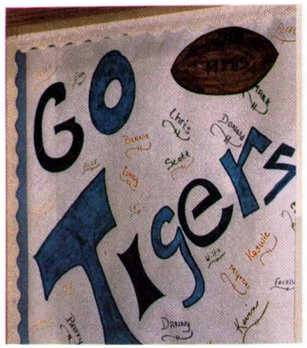
Lines to the street formed quickly at 3:15.

Transportation was always a major part of Moss Point High School in 85-86. There were as many ways of getting to and from school as there were students. Some rode the huge yellow dogs, while others had the luxury of their own cars. In addition, students who lived near the school even walked or rode their bicycles.

COMING HOME — MPHS STYLE

Moss Point pride and tradition really showed through during Homecoming. Tiger spirit hit at all time high when everyone rooted for the beloved home team. Our Tigers won the game, the victory being the climax of a busy, exciting Homecoming Week.

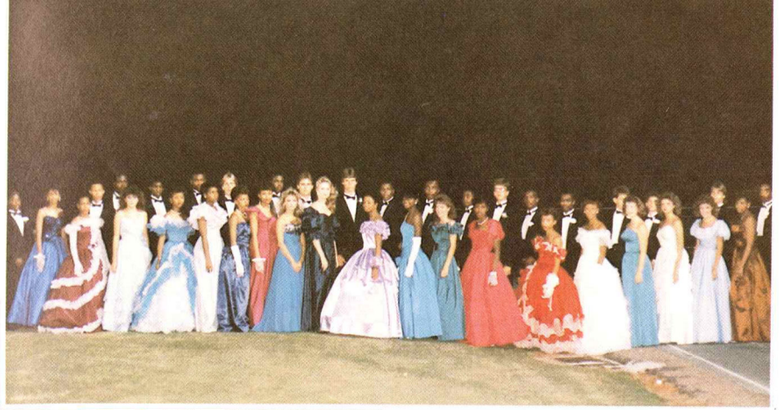
Through the week, students worked on floats for the parade held on Friday afternoon. The Homecoming Court itself was selected, and the presentation for the game was rehearsed. In addition, there was a door-decorating contest throughout the school, and on Thursday night there was a huge pep-rally/bonfire behind the Moss Point McDonald's. The rally was complete with a car for the smashing, the band, and the team and cheerleaders.



The Senior Homecoming maids bring the Senior float to life.

Spirits ran high as students decorated their doors during Homecoming Week.

The parade was complete with floats, groups and the band.



Making up the Homecoming Court were Sophomore maids: Sharon Bradley, Jaundolyn Hurd, Dawn Roddy, Shelly Scarborough, Latonia Viverette, and Carla Washington.

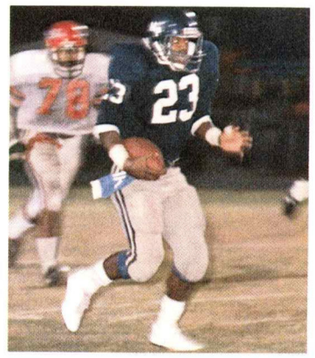
Junior maids: Lynette Johnson, Rosalind King, Tina Lett, Tamika Powe, Laurie Vice, and Pamela Wells.

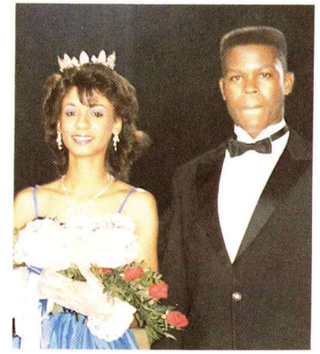
Senior maids: Tara Godfrey, Amanda Marion, Robin Marion, Tamika Morris, Sonja Odom, Jerhi Vice, and the 1985 Homecoming Queen . . . WENCIE POWELL.

Anyone for a charred McRebel Burger?

The 1985 court was so dressed up that it could've passed for real royalty.

Urged on by the Homecoming spirit, Barry Kimbrough helped the Tigers to victory.





Conelius Temple escorted Queen Wencie Powell.

MAKING TRACKS FOR CASH

Many students from MPHS had jobs after school at many different places. For example, familiar faces could be seen on the other side of the counter at McDonald's, Burger King, Winn Dixie, and Piggly Wiggly.

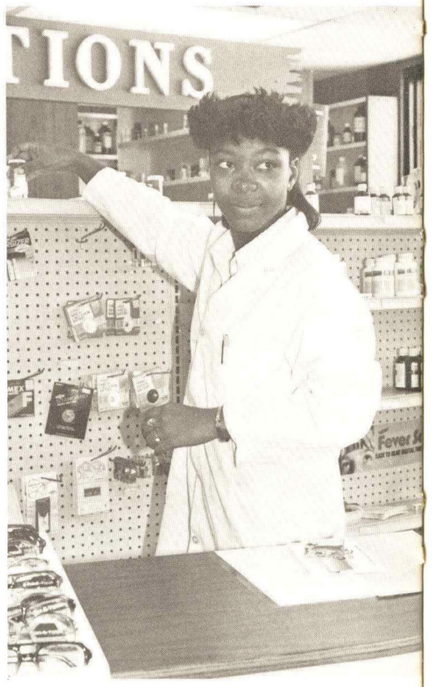
Those "job getters" all had one objective: cash. Some wanted it for cars, some, a sizable savings account. They could see the goals realized as the pay came in.

Having a job, however, didn't mean free money. In addition to working, a student had to maintain his homework and grades. Most spare time was forfeited too, as workers had to give up dates and after school activities for job schedules and obligations.

The Sonic was always a favorite stopping place after school. Glenda Beech was there to serve us with a smile.

In the afternoon the children at Punkin Patch enjoyed the company of Treva Gerber.

Billy Covington clocked in to his after school job at Winn Dixie where he learned more about the world of work.



Whether needing a bottle of vitamins or just an item off the shelf, Jackie Doss could always be found for service at Medi-Mart.

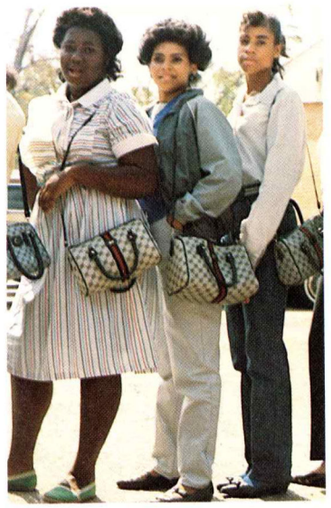
Wayne Lee's kept Jimmy Creel busy. No matter what the job was, he always seemed to enjoy it.

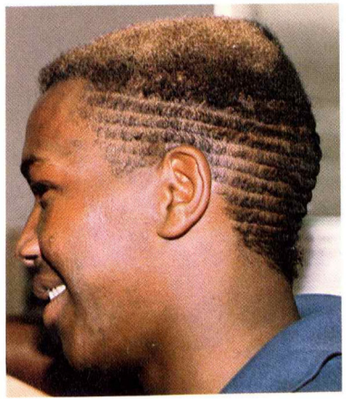
Stringing bows was one of the odd jobs Timmy Dunn performed while working at Daniel's Den.

A STYLE ALL OUR OWN

Fashion tracked us all here at Moss Point High School. Bright colors were definitely a hit this year, and multicolored jewelry was seen everywhere. Jeans and deck shoes, the old standards, remained favorites this year.

There were many new exotic hairstyles this year. A popular style was the tinted auburn streaks that highlighted many heads at MPHS.



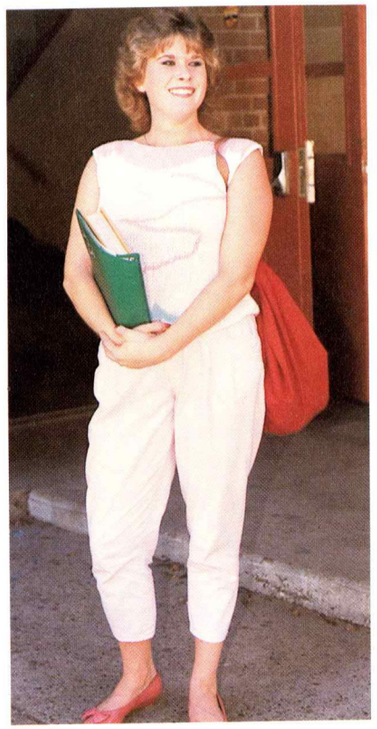


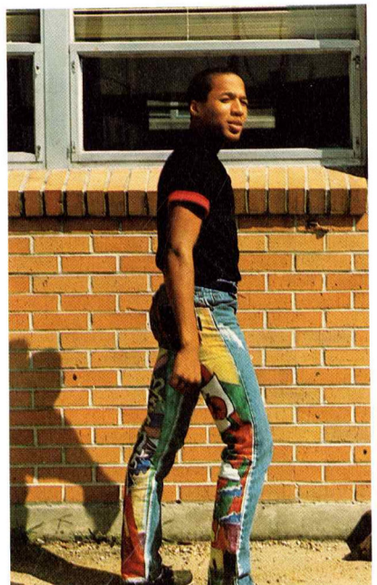
"I brought mine first!"

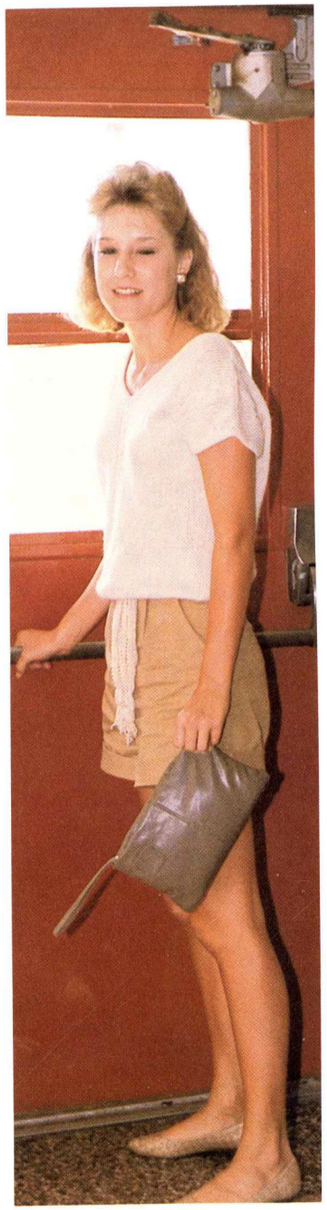
Tinted hair was in style.

1986 brought a new dress code to MPHS. Shorts like Sonya Harrison's were permitted.

Ashley Grafe modeled the new pant length.







Daryle Thames showed off his artistic jeans.

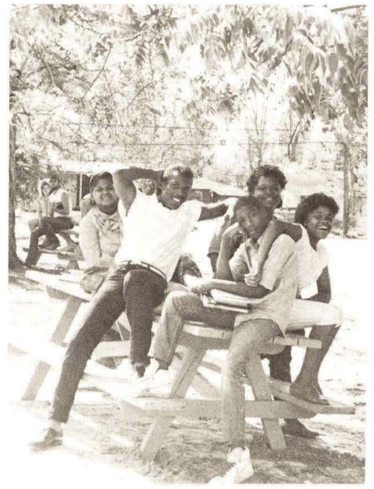
At Moss Point, we all had our favorite hangouts. After lunch, most students socialized around the covered walkway in front of the cafeteria.

To Each His Own . . .



Everyone had a favorite hangout at MPHS. Among the most popular were the cafeteria, bandhall, those well known steps in front of Mrs. Stricklin's room and in the principal's office. These well known hangouts were the meeting places for the many different cliques of MPH. The history and memories of our lives had been implanted in these structures, ordinary to any person except for those who had been there.

Another popular meeting place for MPHS students was out under the pecan trees in the shade beside the bandhall.

A New Way To Learn

Twenty-four Apple IIe computers were used in some Algebra I classes as reinforcement for the teacher's lesson. The students were provided with a computer Alg. I floppy disc that reviewed and reinforced the teacher's lesson. The computer provided a new interesting way of learning. Mrs. Hudson assists Sandra Smith with her Algebra.

The eighties were considered to be the computer decade and Moss Point High School implemented computers for many different duties in its system. Some of those duties included scheduling, grading, and computers were even used as tutors in certain classes.

The Guidance Office used computers to make out student's schedules. Every student received a computer print out schedule at the first of school.

The Principal's Office used another computer to process grades. Each student's grades were fed into the computer and a grade report was printed out.

Overall, everyone involved with computer work enjoyed the experience and learned from it.

Of Sentimental Value . . .

A class ring says many things. To a senior or junior who has one, for example, it shouts "status symbol" to an underclassman. It can also whisper sentiments of love to a girlfriend who receives her steady's ring. In contrast, a class ring can exhuberate yells of freedom for a senior: it can symbolize graduation or maturity. Finally, as the years go by, the class ring provides the warm, loving voice of memories of the days of high school long past.

Having a class ring to give your girlfriend is one of the many "uses" of a class ring.

Masterpiece Of Moss Point High

A work of art is a unique experience for the artist who created it and for the observer who benefits from the creation. In the art house at MPHS, the students who took art learned about the many styles and techniques of drawing. Art is like making tracks; it takes one step at a time. Mr. Brantley, who is the art teacher, really does an extraordinary job.

Interesting pieces of work are always in the making at Moss Point High.

The art class studied the many methods and styles of drawing.

Sherry Dortch learned that drawing a subject could be enjoyable and easy.

As Busy As Bees

Some people think that working as an office aide is just a free period in the air-conditioning. However, working in one of the offices was not all fun and games this year. Looking up students' schedules, running off papers, taking up absentee slips and running other errands were just a few of the jobs the workers were expected to complete in a short 55-minute period.

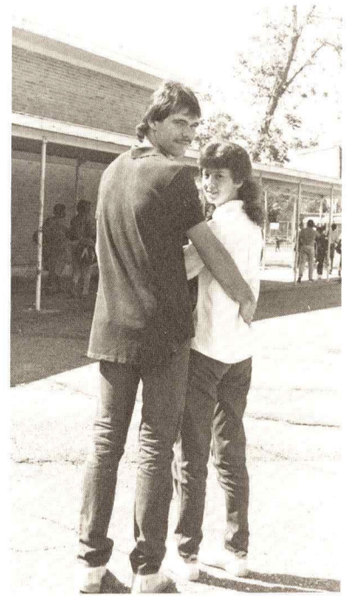
Hits And Misses By Cupid

Timothy Thomas and Angela King were often seen holding hands.

As they danced together under the dimmed lights, he told her he liked someone else and she started crying. Their relationship was dissolving. The couple that had outlasted the others was finally breaking up.

Here at MPHS, there are more heartaches than most soaps have.



Couples could be found all around MPHS. Sheila Havard and James Milton were often seen together.

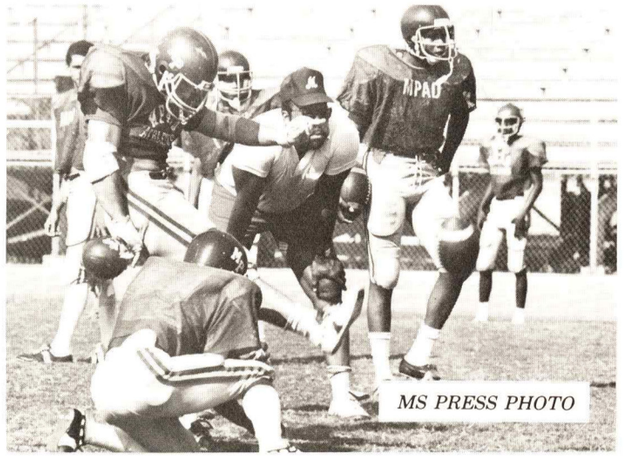
It took alot of practice, dedication and hard work on the part of both the team and coaches to prepare for a DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIP season!



MS PRESS PHOTO

The Moss Point TIGERS opened their 1985 football season on a sunny Saturday afternoon due to the havoc Hurricane Elena wrought. Their SPIRITS soared, however, as they defeated Hattiesburg 13 to 0.

Two weeks Later, a heated contest in Theodore resulted in defeat for the TIGERS — 32-14 Theodore's favor.

The TIGERS took Biloxi by a storm. Maybe they were hungry for revenge after the demoralizing defeat in Mobile. The TIGERS took early control of their District contest and never looked back. The final score — 36 to 16. Both offense & defense played a superb game.

We took that same PRIDE and SPIRIT right on over to Gulfport the next week and added another District victory to our record. Score — 17 to 0.

The TIGERS didn't disappoint a large Homecoming crowd. They defeated Harrison Central 30 to 17. What a fantastic way to end a week long of Homecoming festivities.

Bad luck seemed to follow whenever we crossed the Alabama state line. Vigor was ready to meet the challenge. A close game resulted in a Vigor victory. Score 14-0.

We needed to defeat Picayune in order to keep in the race for District Champions. Even though Picayune has always been a tough opponent, the TIGERS claimed the win in overtime. Score 17-10.

The TIGERS seemed to have the wrong game on their minds when they traveled to Meridian. A Pascagoula defeat that same evening would guarantee the TIGERS the DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIP. The Tigers became the DISTRICT CHAMPS but loss 22 to 0 to the number one team in the state — Meridan. The DISTRICT 8-5A CHAMPIONSHIP took the bite out of that loss.

"POINT POUNDS PASCAGOULA" was the headline in the Ms. Press. the TIGERS helped inprove the overall Moss Point — Pascagoula rivalry contest by defeating the Panthers 14 to 7.

The TIGERS lost to Warren Central 9 to 6 in the play-off action.

STAND UP AND CHEER . . .

Dawn Millender got caught in the cake box as she took a break during Moss Point's homecoming game.

Traci Mills and Leslie Koskela prepared for try-outs.

Has Ronald McDonald joined our cheerleading squad?

Cheerleading squad: Yolanda Brightwell, Angela Crews, Dawn Millender, Shelly Scarborough, Susan Watson, Traci Mills, Robin Marion, Adrienne Jackson, and Leslie Koskela.

Head-cheerleaders, Susan Watson and Traci Mills directed cheers, pep-rallies, and choreographed the dances for the squad.

One of the groups we always look forward to seeing at football and basketball games are the cheerleaders. Football cheerleaders have try-outs in the Spring. Elected cheerleaders attended camp during the summer at Perkinston. They won the coveted 1st place overall award while at camp. Planning pep rallies, selling ribbons and preparing for Pascagoula and Homecoming weeks kept them busy. The basketball cheerleaders had their try-outs in the Fall. Even though they didn't have Pep Rallies, they were kept busy with an extensive basketball schedule. Sponsors: Ms. Barron and Mrs. Hill

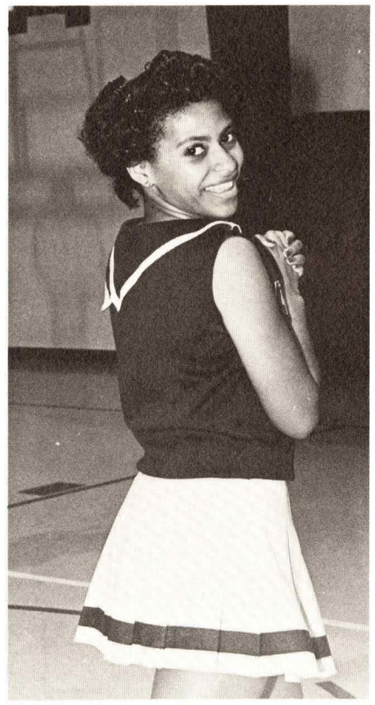
Basketball cheerleaders: 1-r, Tonya McMillian, Marion Dubose, Karen Thompson, Sheena Lett, Sharon Berry, and Rolanda Jones.

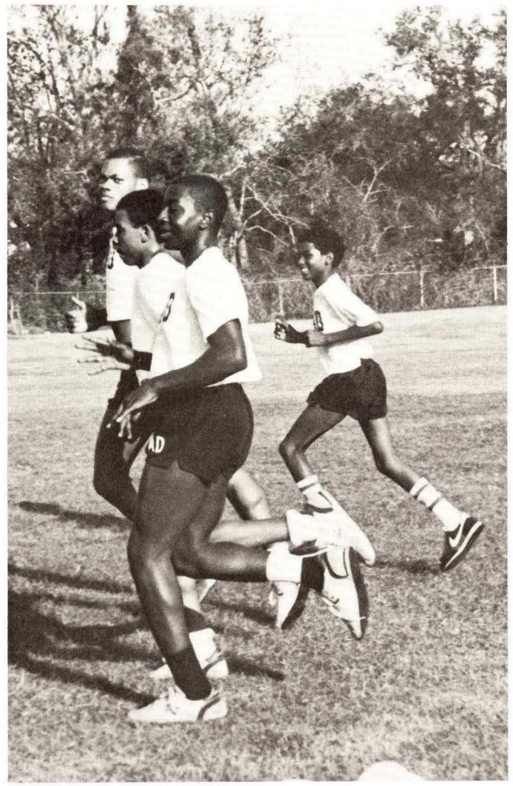
Marion Dubose and Sheena Lett cheered the Tigers to a victory.

Head cheerleader, Sabrina Walley, provided the squad with great leadership during the basketball games.

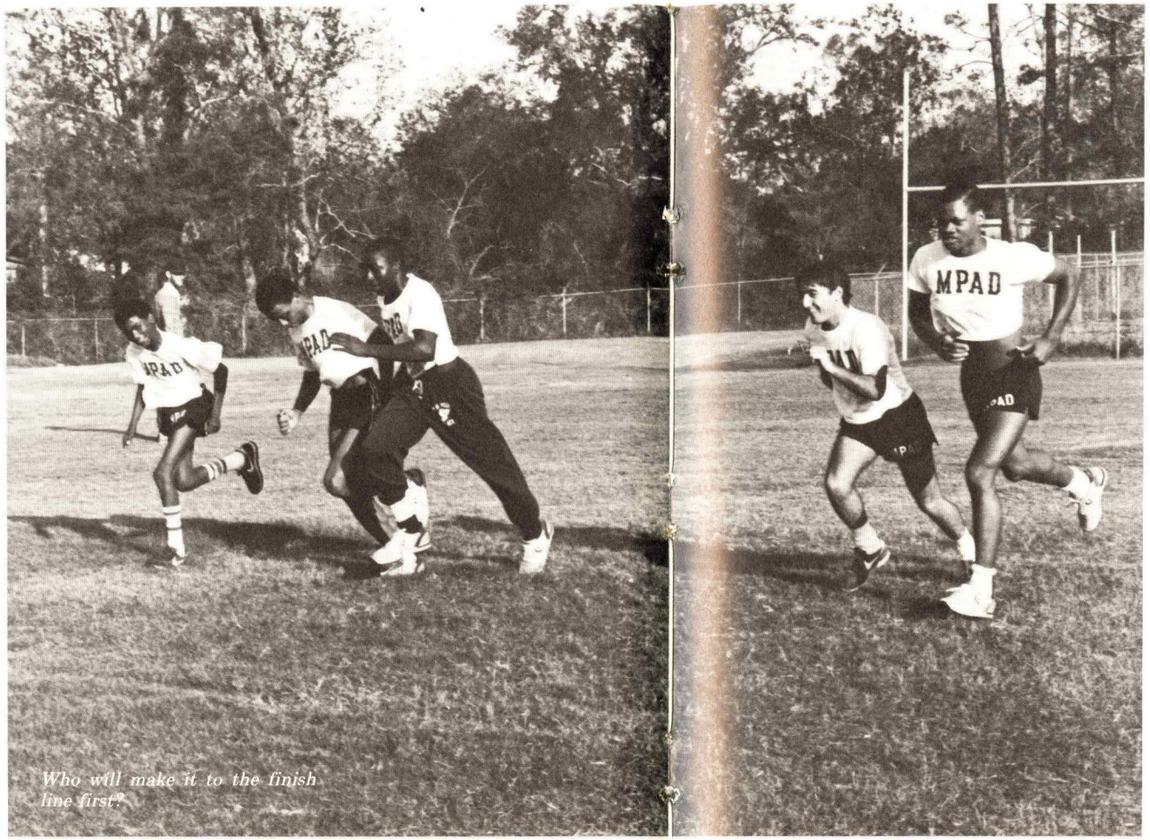
Sharon Berry game that "ALL-AMERICAN" cheerleader smile that everyone loves to see during games.

Marion Dubose, Sheena Lett, Tonya McMillan, and Karen Thompson synchronized all their movements so well.

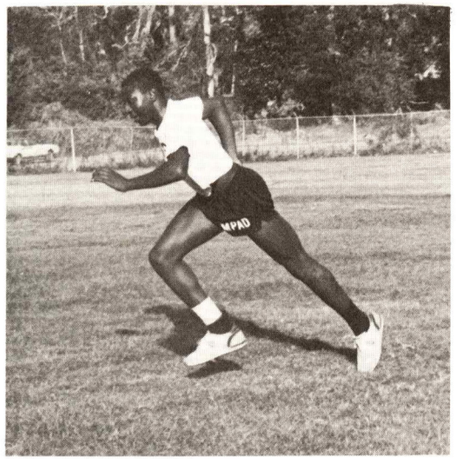




Byron Wells, Earl Jennings, Curtis Booker and Gilbert Smith practiced every day for the meets.



Who will make it to the finish line first?



The cross country team competed in the Big 8, the district 8 and state cross country meets.

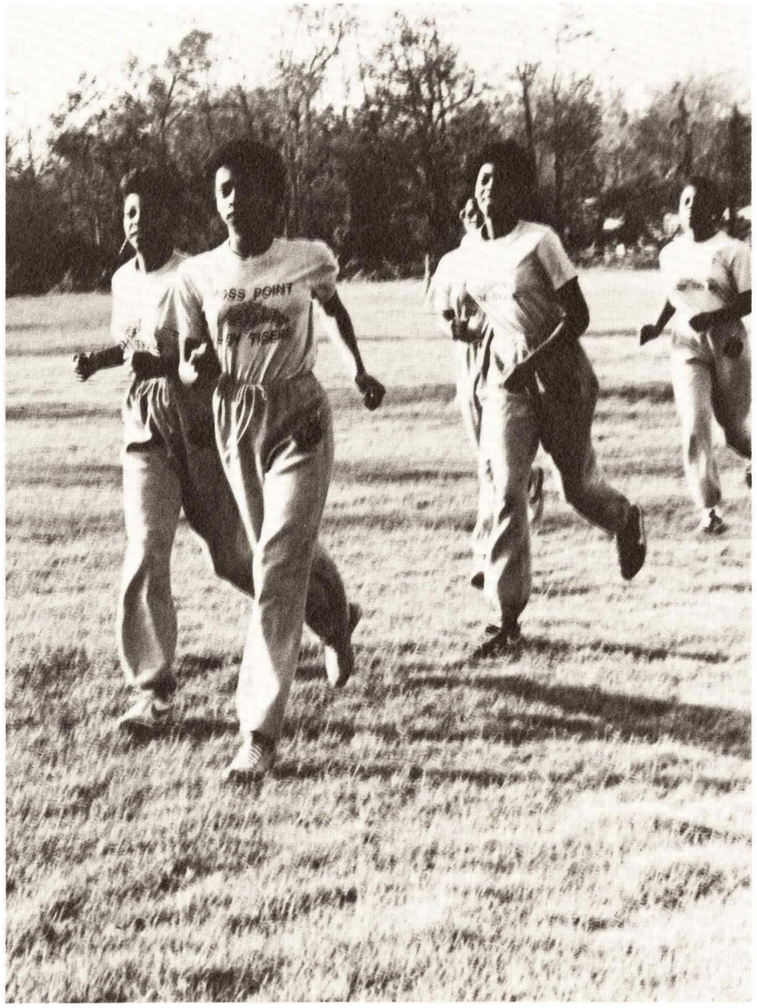
RUNNING CROSS COUNTRY

Tawanna Arnold seemed like she was enjoying this practice run.



The girls cross country team this year was composed of 15 runners. The average distance was 2.1 miles in district, which was held in Biloxi and 3.1 miles for the Big 8 and state meet, which was held in Jackson. Due to Hurrican Elena the cross country season was cut short; however, MPHS did finish 5th in the state, 4th in the Big 8 and 3rd in district.

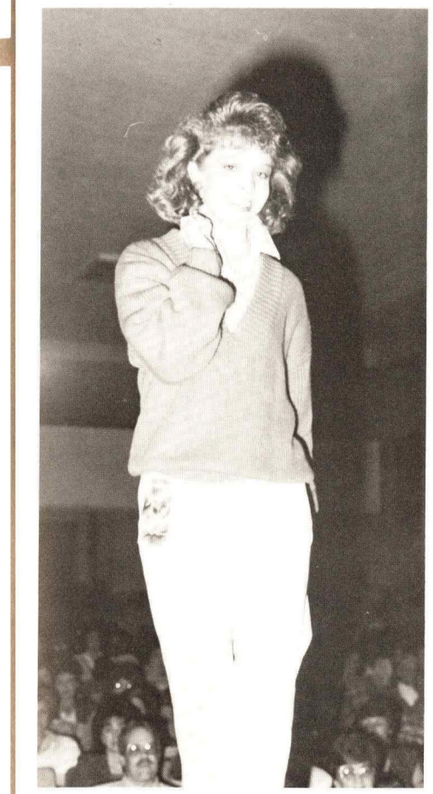
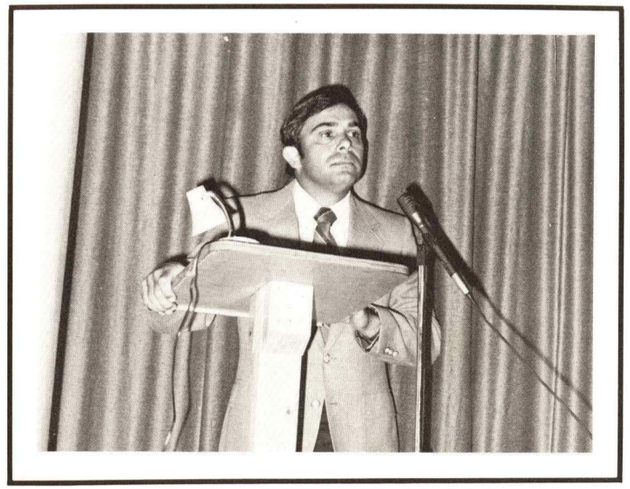
Mystery lady was the theme for the 1986 Beauty Pageant. Twenty-seven class beauties vied for the title of finalist and Most Beautiful. All of the contestants had previously been elected class beauties by the entire student body. Previously elected Beaus and Most Handsome escorted the young ladies throughout the pageant. Mistress of ceremonies was Ms. Jeanne Forrester. Entertainment for the evening was provided by the MPHS Madrigals and Robin Cook. Who's Who certificates were also presented at this time. The mystery was solved when the judges selected 3 finalists from each class and a Most Beautiful. The pageant was sponsored by the Growler Yearbook Staff.

Most Beautiful: Wencie Powell





Coach Niles welcomed the audience and introuced Ms. Forrester.

Lynnette Johnson modeled sportswear featuring valentine colors. Walking out on the ramp required grace and poise.

Junior Class Beauties: Laurie Vice, Paige Perkins, Angela Crews, Lynnette Johnson, Rosalind King, Traci Mills, Tamika Powe, Yolanda Bonner and Tina Lett.

. . . JUNIOR MISS 1986 . . .

On the evening of November 16, 1985, Moss Point held the annual Junior Miss pageant. Judges rated the fourteen contestants on talent, interviews, scholastic achievement, physical fitness, and poise and appearance.

Many of the girls played the piano or sang songs during the talent competition. Others, however, danced or did comedy skits.

During intermission, Joey Hans, 1985's Jr. Miss, and Donna Stringfellow, Miss Jackson County, entertained the audience with songs.

The Junior Miss contestants performed a familiar Hawaiian song using sign language. We were very impressed.

Special award winners other than Jr. Miss and her alternates were: Gayla Martin — Scholastic Award, Amy Hammond — Talent Award, and Tara Godfrey — Spirit of Jr. Miss.

The Junior Miss pageant does not consider beauty, but is characterized by scholastic achievement, involvement, and creativity.

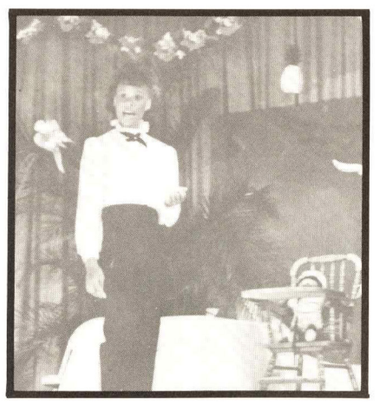
WINNERS left to right
3rd Alt. — Amanda Marion
1st Alt. — Gayla Martin
Jr. Miss. — Susan Watson
2nd Alt. — Treva Gerber
4th Alt. — Tara Godfrey

Stacy McDuffee looked serious as she performed the song, "As soon as I get home."

Yolanda Brightwell showed her piano expertise through playing Sonatina in two movements.

Ann Marie Beatty "entertained" us all with her comedy skit "I could be a star".

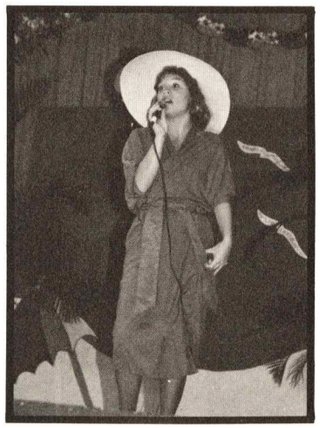
Could this be a beginning for a career in singing for Gayla Martin? She really did look like she was enjoying the pageant.



"Look here now, you little brats!" thinks Robin Marion as she uses her drama skills to recollect "He's my Brother" for the talent event of the pagent.

Paige, are you griping at Linus or are you making a point? Paige Payne does a skit from "Peanuts" — playing the role of Lucy!

The contestants were all smiles as they performed the physical fitness dance routine.



Michelle "Chico" Miranne looked like she was not the least bit nervous as she danced and sang "Flaming Agnes" for her talent performance.

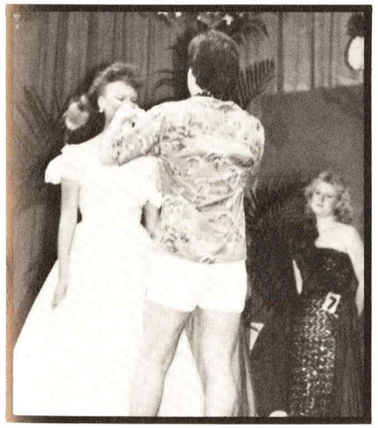
Susan Watson captured the hearts of the judges as she performed her clown act for her Junior Miss talent.

Tara Godfrey did a modern jazz dance to Neil Diamond's "All That Jazz". Tara did look good, as usual!

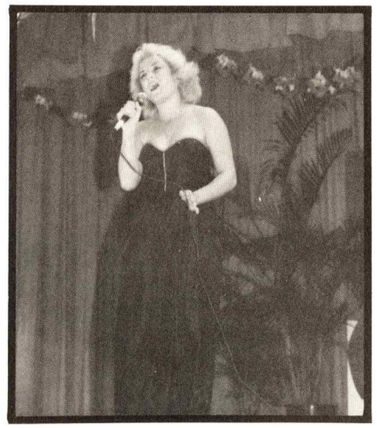
. . . A Hawaiian Holiday

Amanda Marion seemed to enjoy doing the "twist" as she smiled to the judges during the physical fitness dance. She did look cute!

Boy! They really seemed to get into this didn't they? The girls did a Hawaiian hula-style dance to the King's "Blue Hawaii".



"What else could any guy ever want?" thought Terry Williams. "I get to greet each girl Hawaiian style." Did he brag to his friends?



Junior Miss 1985, Joey Hans, sang "As Soon As I Get Home" during the intermission. Joey really poured her heart into the music.

Amy Benigno looked anxious as the girls lined up to hear the judges' final decisions. Didn't she look pretty?

COURT OF THE CAT 1986

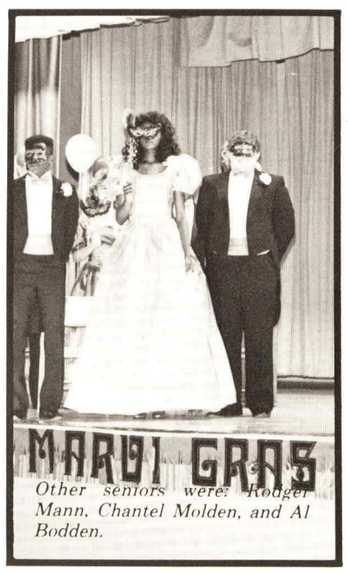
Moss Point High's 5th annual Carnival Ball was held on January 24, 1986, in the school auditorium. M.C. for the event was Lynn Presley. Entertainment for the night was Sabrina Liddell, Jeffery Keys, and Dawn King. Background music was obtained from the Broadway musical, CATS.

Honored guest was King Tiger the 4th, Mr. Chris Osgood.

Mrs. Polk congratulated King Tiger V, Ron Krotoszynski, and Queen Wencie Powell.

Junior Dukes and Duchesses were: Keswic Joiner, Leslie Koskela, Chris Ayers, Susan May, Rhad Carter and Rosalind King.

Sophomore and senior members of the court were: Tara Godfrey, Ron Krotoszynski, Wencie Powell, Noel Grafe, Lara Seidel, Mike Cronin, Janet Poindexter, Duane Hill, and Latonia Viverette.



Other seniors were: Rodger Mann, Chantel Molden, and Al Bodden.

TO THE BEAT OF A DIFFERENT DRUM

PRIDE. That's the word that described our Tiger Marching Band. They worked very hard all year long to treat their audiences to extra-special show.

Whether it was a halftime show or the Christmas concert, the band did their best to put on well-executed, professional performances and routines.

Mr. Chapman used expert techniques to conduct the MPHS Tiger Band.

Our band, while still in the freeze-frame, was alive with PRIDE!

While the perfect halftime show is every band's dream, achieving this feat is almost impossible. Nevertheless, the MPH band tried their best to accomplish this goal.

Drum majors Steve Stringer and Stacey Shields gave much time and effort to lead the band through the football season and along the road to state contest.

Drum Section, 1985-1986: Robin Daugherty, Mark Kimmerrer, Jeff Davis, Vicki Stone, Elizabeth Hansen, Kelli Newbill, Cindy Tristani, Jason Knowles, Mark Bowie, Eddie Ragno, Al Mathis, Angie Jackson.

Low Brass Section, 1985-1986: Baritones: Traci Turner, Nelva Smith, Chedryl Jones, Kim Woods, Darren Lett, Stephania Mills. Trombones: Roderick Blake, Warren Woods, Ron Eckert, Billy Covington, Collin Pardue, Richelle Smith. Tubas: Chris McBeath, Alvin Felts, Craig Cowart, John Burrows, Cory Wilson, Charles Miller.

Rifle Squad, 1985-1986: Amy Benigno, Paige Payne, Kelly Hinkel, Jenny Wells.

The jazz band worked on a variety of music this year, including expressive, traditional jazz music and popular music of today,

Members of the Intermediate Band worked on the basic fundamentals of music and band. They also worked on instrument technique and style.

Intermediate Band Members: Bridget Brumfield, Tracy Cunningham, Marion Dubose, Stephanie Foster, Stacy Fountain, Tracey Glaude, Casandra Haynes, Nayonda Leverson, Michelle McMillan, Keith Money, Vicki Nichols, Glennon Rammey, Terrell Rammey, Twanda Sims.

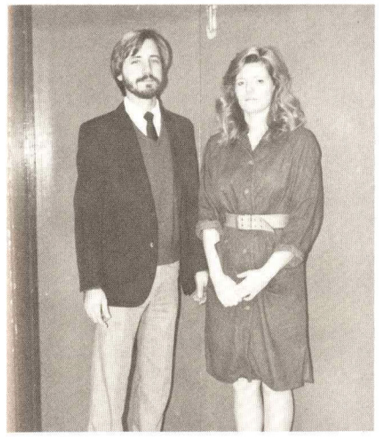
The jazz band echoes sounds of "Old New Orleans" through the auditorium.



Band at Moss Point is more than just marching in football games. Besides marching band, there is a variety of courses involving many types of music. Jazz band, Intermediate band, Winter guard, and Band-labs are available to students interested in the field of music. These special band courses are for the development of specific skills such as style, musical ability, and basic fundamentals of band.

Mr. Chapman and Ms. Kramer greatly contribute to the success of the band by giving their time, effort, and guidance to the musicians.

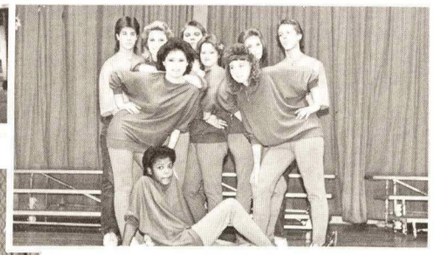
All the choirs work hard to put on a professional concert. The Madrigals work extra hard to execute this routine.

The excitement in the air helps contribute to a very special choir concert.

SING THAT TUNE . . .

Our MPHS choir always treats audiences to a well-rounded, professional show.

One of the advantages of being a singer is publicity. Everyone say, "Cheese!"



Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Williams give it their "all" to make the choir the best it can be.

The first thing that comes to mind when "choir" is mentioned is "songs". Choir, however, was much more than just singing. It was a course that involved music, sure, but it also focused on the fundamentals of singing, including styles of different songs.

Choir also exposed a singer to the public by getting him involved with concerts. It recognized talent and put it on the stage. Speaking of stage, a MPHS choir concert treated a music lover to a varied array of harmonic melodies.

As a whole, the choral program was a rewarding experience for both the singers and listeners.

Gospel Choir, 1985-1986: Valerie Blair, Angie Brown, Rosalind Brown, Jackie Frances, Policia Shelton, Harold Thompson, Satonja Townsel, Barbara Wells, Paulette Dotson, Thermesa Brown, Jennifer McCorvey.

SING HALLELUJAH

Actually, there were three different choirs in the choir program. They were Ensemble Choir, Madrigals, and Gospel Choir.

While the Madrigals were basically a show choir, and Ensemble a formal singing group, the Spiritual choir was for students who were interested in performing religious music. The Gospel group at Moss Point High followed the traditional patterns of gospel groups by performing that joyous, exciting music that is in a class all its own.

All three choirs practice hard to put on good concerts. Likewise, Mrs. Thompson works extra hard to make last-minute plans and changes to put on a good concert.

They worked hard and dilligently to bring out the beauty of the music and to develop their own styles and sounds. The final result was a sensational original and expressive sound.

Hard work and devotion paid off as the choirs prepared to sing in the concert.

There's no business like show business, and showbiz includes great concerts!

The Madrigals enjoyed singing and dancing.

Selling, selling, and still more selling!

Christy Womack and Rene' Davis sang their hearts out.

"The hills are alive with the sound of music," as this trio chanted away.

Will Dawn King be another Judy Garland?

A LIGHTER NOTE

HABLAMOS ESPAÑOL

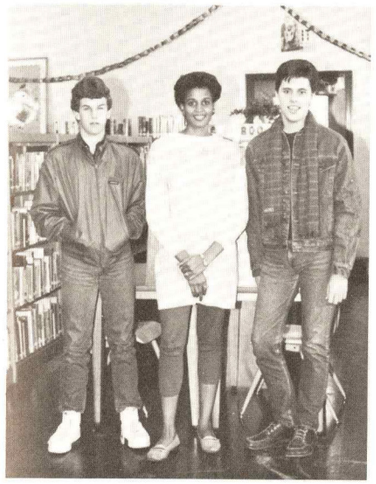
Christmas carols with a Spanish twist greet the holiday season.

Mrs. Ruddiman gave her time to sponsor the Spanish Club.

Ms. Broadus also contributed time and effort to the club.

The Spanish Club was devoted to enhancing members' knowledge about Spanish-speaking countries' cultures and people. For example, the group sponsored many projects throughout the year, such as Christmas caroling Mexican-style during the holidays. During the homecoming season, the club built and entered a truck in the parade, and all through the year the club met and discussed habits and ideals of Mexicans, South Americans, and other Spanish — speaking groups of people.

Spanish Club, 1985-1986: Pres. — Letitia McCraw, V. Pres. — Wanda Sims, Sec. — Wencie Powell, Pamela Watts, Tracey Williams, Erica Nelson, Nicole Suddeth, Jill Crews, Helen Lambert, Wencie Powell, Michael Harvey, Gretchen Calhoun, Traci Robinson, Pam Taylor, Sonya Odom, Myrick Polk, Cornelius Temple, Lagena Johnson, Karen Moore, Chris Viverette, Anthony Brown, Ennis Tait, Terry Doby, Kim Dulaney, Troy Middleton, Sandra Smith, Tawanna Barnes, Cathy Harris, Darlene Miller, Jonas Powell, Melissa Snell, Toni Crawford, Becky Roberts.



The French Club Officers are Pres. Brian Fuller, V. Pres. James Goff, and Sec. Treas. Alexandria Hyde.

Being in the French Club can be rewarding, since students can learn about the life and culture of French people. Anyone for escargots?

Dr. Bynum and Ms. Barron used their expert knowledge of the French language and culture to sponsor the French Club.

CLUB DE FRANCAIS

Le Club Formidable

French was a very exciting course, and students who joined the French club did so to further their knowledge of the people, culture and life of France. The club is more informal than a French language class, which enables members to learn more about customs that don't appear in textbooks.

Throughout the year, the club sponsored projects, such as the truck that was decorated and entered in the homecoming parade.

EVERYONE LOVES A "HERO"

The overall goal of the MPHS HERO club is to help youth assume their roles in society through home economics education in areas of personal growth, family life, vocational preparation and community involvement.

The club also provides opportunities for self-development and preparation for adult responsibilities such as family and community living and employment. By focusing on the family as a basic unit of society, HERO also promoted the achievement of worldwide brotherhood. Similarly, the club encourages democracy through cooperative action in the home and community. HERO members became aware of the many roles of men and women today.

Mrs. Clark put a great deal of time and effort into sponsoring the HERO club.

Fund raising is a part of every organization. Richard Martin does his best as he sells to Veronica Taplin.

TOMORROW'S "EXECS"

FBLA stands for Future Business Leaders of America, and the name says it all. The purpose of the club is to bring business and education together in a positive working relationship. FBLA'a goals include promoting competent, aggressive business leadership, understanding American business enterprise, establishing career goals, and developing character and self-confidence.

FBLA participated in many projects throughout the year, including The Fall Leadership Conference in Orlando, Florida, and the National Convention in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Davis helps to push the businessmen and businesswomen of tomorrow down the path of success.

Another person who gave time and effort to FBLA was Mrs. Youngblood.

It's a world of high fashion out there, and this group of students was right in the middle of all the complex, ever-changing styles and trends that affect us all. They were the MPHS Modeling Squad, and elegant, beautiful fashion was the name of their game.

Being a model was fun, but it also required a great deal of hard work and time. To these models, however, it's worth it to be able to model the "in" fashions during a show.

Ms. Shaw, Mrs. Deshields and Ms. Nicholson sponsor the Modeling Club.

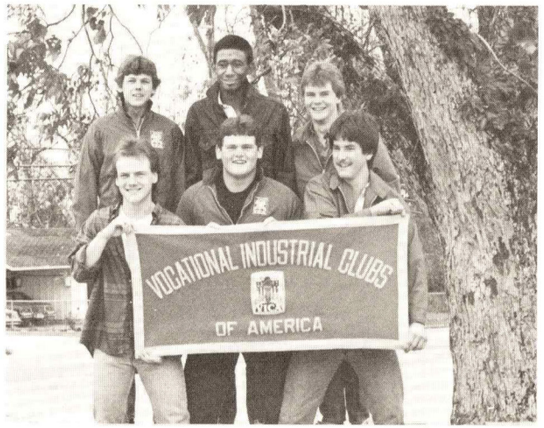
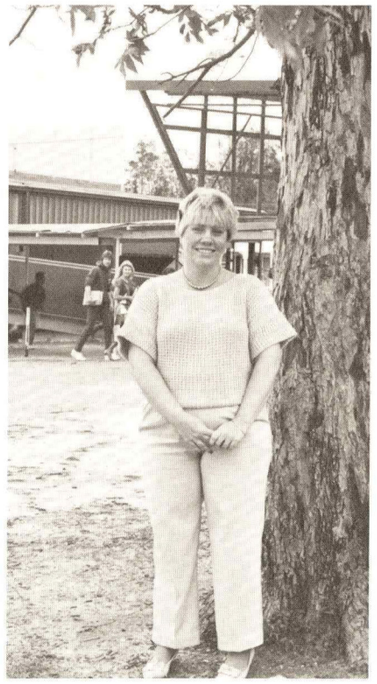
VICA — SPIRIT AND GROWTH



The VICA club officers smiled proudly as they held up their club's emblem.

The VICA club brought students together to share their ideas and opinions on many different things. Their main purpose was to instill spirit and a desire to learn, grow, and become better adults. VICA prepared students for life by broadening perspectives through club activities. It offered co-curricular activities that enhanced the educational process.



Club sponsors had to be devoted and caring. Mrs. Fuqua fit this description as she sponsored the VICA club at MPHS.

BOOK PUSHERS

Library aides are truly special people. They help all of us at one time or another, whether it be that book we must have for tomorrow's book report, or just the latest gossip in the new "Seventeen". They do more than just help us find books, however, they can also be found running library errands such as delivering equipment or checking out books for us.

All in all, the library aides help to bring us something we all need — Knowledge.

Treva Gerber helped to decorate the library for Christmas.

One chore for San Smith, Kim Martin and Nita Phillips was to keep the current periodicals on the shelves.

'RITHMATIC

There's readin', and there's writtin', but the name of Mu Alpha Theta members' game was definitely 'rithmatic. Members of this club were interested in the field of math.

From time to time the club entered star members in tournaments across the state. As always, Moss Point was well represented by this club.

Pres. Vince Hartwell, V. Pres. Robert Stanley, and Seargent-At-Arms Murray Jardine provide the leadership for this organization.

During Mu Alpha Theta meetings, members discuss upcoming events, such as math tournaments.

BRIGHT AND BRAINY

The name says it all for the Honor Society. Members should be "honored" to be a part of a nationwide association of clubs based on scholastic excellence and achievement.

The club itself stressed five points: scholarship, leadership, service, character, and citizenship. The Society's goal was to instill these qualities of excellence into its members and into the school as a whole.

The Honor Society was made up of a fine group of young people we can all be proud of.

The National Honor Society's officers were Ron Krotoszynski, Vince Hartwell, Tony Grierson, and Robert Stanley.

Mrs. Rimer gave much time an effort into sponsoring the Honor Society.

National Honor Society, 1985-1986: Vince Hartwell, Ron Krotoszynski, Terry Woods, David Carpenter, Alvin Felts, Steve Richmond, Tony Grierson, Mark Young, Rick Breland, Keith Price, Robert Stanley, Cornelius Temple, Kim Graham, Kim Knight, Nita Phillips, Pam Jones, Angela Flowers, Felicia Nettles, Veronica Taplin, Tameka Morris, Gayla Martin, Robin Marion, Amy Benigno, Rene Clark, Carol Devine, Kelli Hankins.

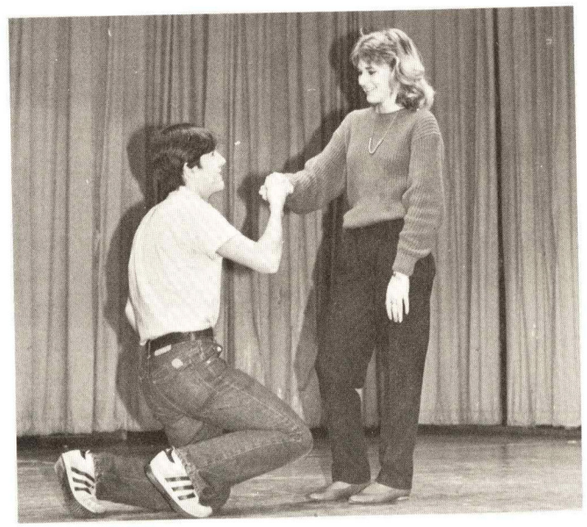
SO DRAMATIC

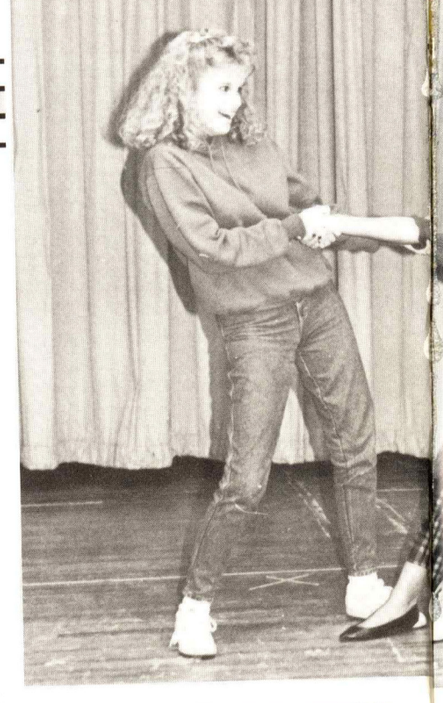
Acting, just like any other job, can't be all work and no play. These students take a minute to just giggle a while.

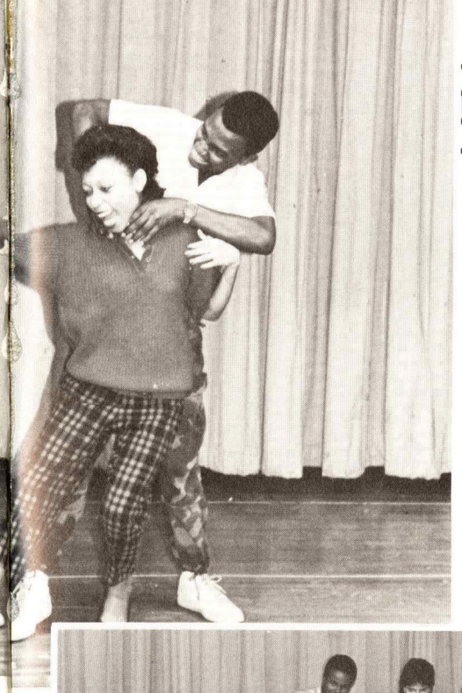
Thank goodness for Toni Crawford that this is only a play. In real life, her friends won't leave her without a "shoulder to lean on".

Acting is more than just reciting lines. Deborah Seidel and Darryl Raines get into the action of this scene.

Ms. Owens coached and directed the Drama Club this year.







MPHS Drama Club

In the "tug-of-war" we all call life, stress and pressure can buildup. Enjoyable activities such as acting can relieve some of the everyday troubles of life.

The Drama Club at MPHS involves students who like plays and other stage activities. The club puts on plays throughout the year and members learn about acting skills and fundamentals.

By gaining experience from acting, students also build up their backgrounds in the fine arts by learning plays and understanding the styles and backgrounds of those play's authors.

The Drama Club puts on plays that deal with real-life experiences.

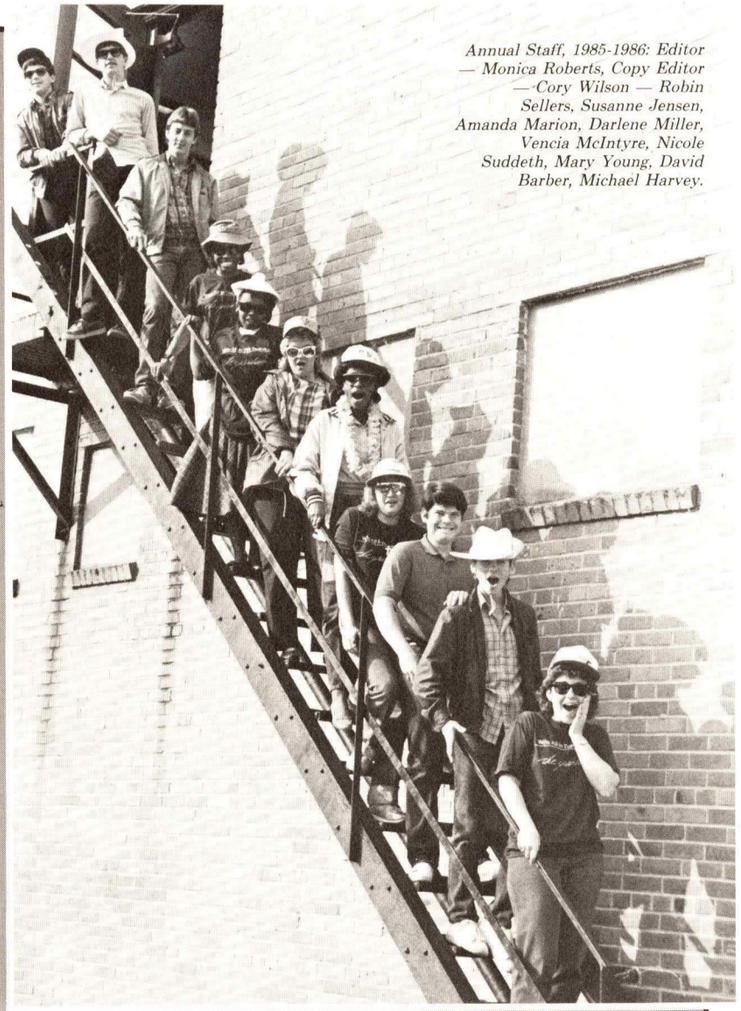
DECA, which stood for Distributive Education Clubs of America, was actually two clubs in one. DECA Co-op and Marketing DECA were the two factions.

As a whole, DECA activities center on topics such as leadership development and vocational understanding. Separately, however, DECA Co-op focuses on distribution, while Marketing DECA concentrates on marketing. Members in each club are also involved in various community projects throughout the school year.

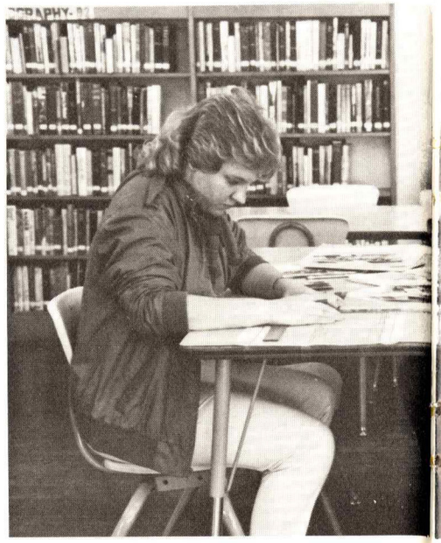


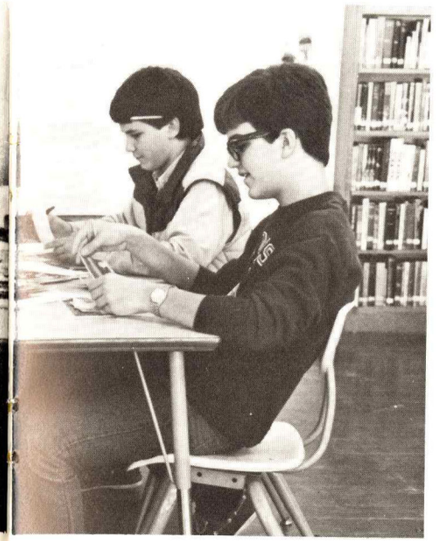
Annual Staff, 1985-1986: Editor — Monica Roberts, Copy Editor —Cory Wilson — Robin Sellers, Susanne Jensen, Amanda Marion, Darlene Miller, Vencia McIntyre, Nicole Suddeth, Mary Young, David Barber, Michael Harvey.

Being on the Annual Staff was more than just layouts and copy. Robin Sellers does the tedious job of calling yearbook purchasers from last year to inform them about the supplement

The Annual Staff was responsible, as the name suggests, for the production of the yearbook you are reading. They worked all year to complete layouts, copy and captions. They also were in charge of the 1986 Beauty Pageant. They tried to make the "GROWLER" the best ever.

"DEADLINE" became the most dreaded word for the staff members. It was most important that we meet deadlines in order to have the book back before Graduation.

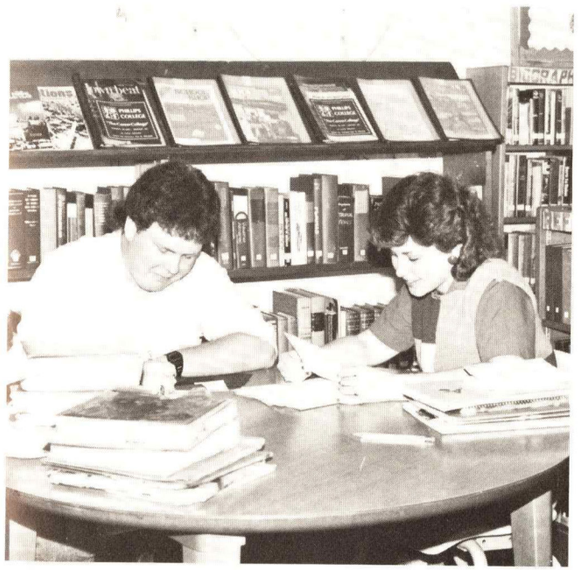




AN ANNUAL AFFAIR

Sometimes working on the annual calls for working in groups. Staff members depend on each other at times for needed assistance, insight, or support.

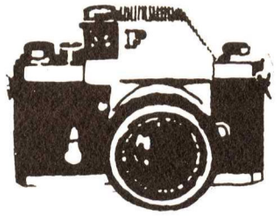
Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Baxter worked hard at keeping confusion at a minimum, and production of the yearbook on schedule.



Every staff member had a section of the yearbook they were responsible for. Susanne, Nicole and Vencia work on theirs.

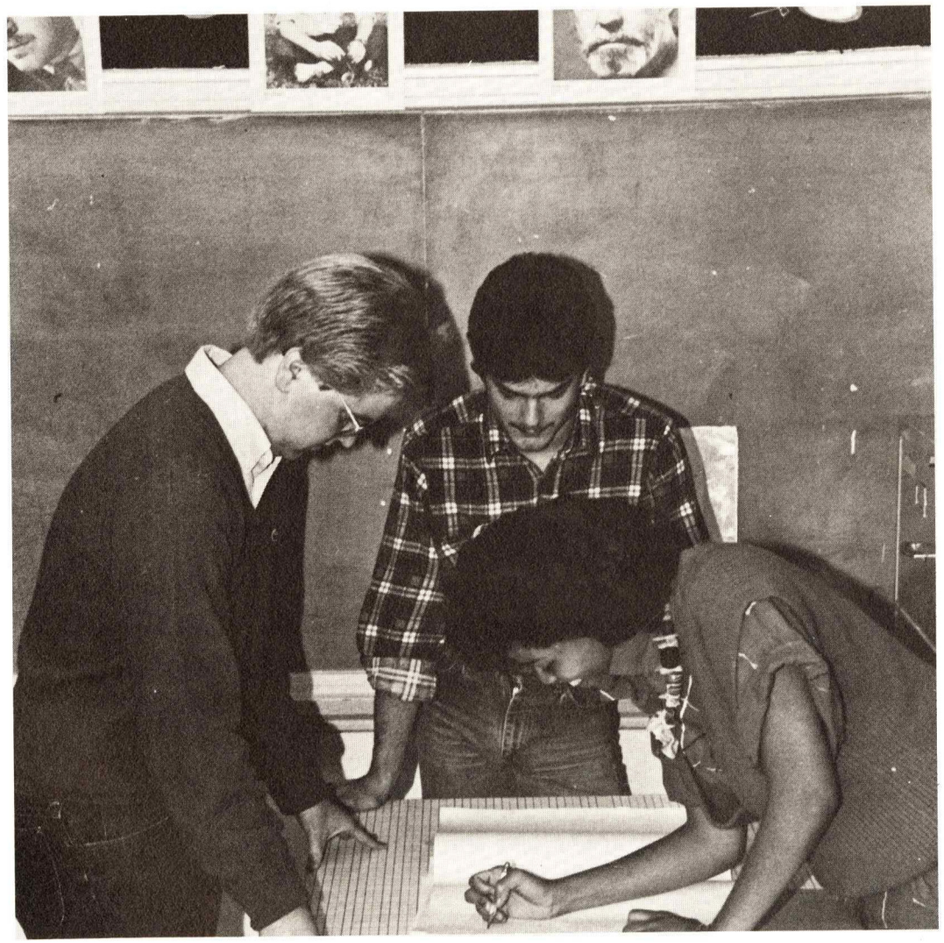
Monica Roberts and Terry Woods learned alot about the Ad business as that section of the book was their job.

Cory Wilson, the copy editor, spent much of his time reading and writing copy and captions.



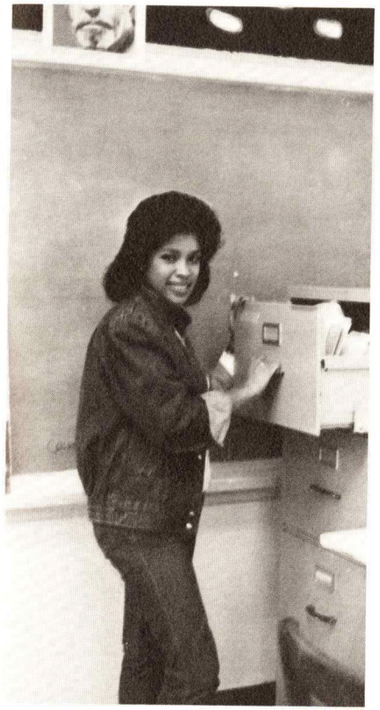
To produce a well-rounded, interesting newspaper, Tiger-Flash reporters interviewed many interesting personalities.

Hard work, devotion, and attention to details made Tiger-Flash an interesting newspaper.



"EXTRA . . . EXTRA!"

Claudia McInnis can easily name a position that meant hard work and dedication: Editor-in-chief, Tiger Flash!



"Extra . . . Extra! — Read all about it!"

Everyone is familiar with that old scene of a paper boy standing on a corner selling the latest news. Even though the Tiger Flash Staff didn't stand on corners shouting that phrase, there was always something in their papers for everyone.

Articles ranging from club news to hot views could be found in each issue. One could also find articles on fads, fashions, and fantastic happenings here at MPHS. The newspaper staff truly used its talents to produce an outstanding paper.

One major chore of producing a newspaper was typing news stories, as Kim Smith found out, the hard way.

FOLLOW THE LEADERS

The Student Council was the student body's voice at MPHS. The organization planned many of the activities the student body took part in. In addition to sketching out educational and enjoyable projects for Moss Point High, the Student Council also took part in many service activities throughout the community, such as helping needy families during the holidays.

Mrs. Scott devoted much effort to sponsoring the council.

These were the last MPHS offices these seniors would hold.

Even though participating in the blood drive took courage, a worker or a donor had to remain cool as they went through the red-tape of giving the blood.

The junior class officers cheerfully posed together, proud of the Student Council's achievements throughout the year.

The sophomores were ready, willing, and able to undergo their first year as high school officers.

JUST OUR TYPE

One of the many council volunteers, Steven Dugger, took the temperatures of soon-to-be donors.

Beth Riley was one of many who gave blood to possibly save a life.

One of the Student Council's biggest yearly service projects was the Blood Drive. Held one whole day in the the fall, the drive pushed MPHS students and citizens to give a small amount to save lives.

Although the equipment and most of the volunteers were supplies by the Red Cross, the Student Council was in charge of finding donors and publicizing the event.

Amy Benigno helped to calm one student who was giving blood.

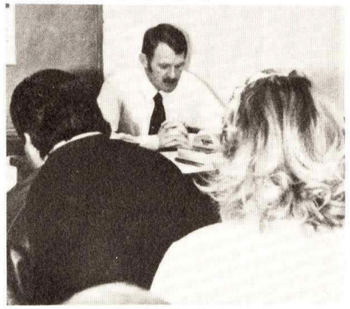
Mr. Stricklin sponsored the Key Club again this year.



The Key Club helped to beautify the campus by planting trees donated by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Key Club is a service organization sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Pascagoula. The club's goal is to help members and other students develop leadership ability and good citizenship practice.

The Key Club helped the school as well as the community by planting several oak trees on campus. The club also participated in national and regional projects throughout the school year.

A HELPING HAND

Ms. Richardson,
Thanks for working to make this annual great, for it was your devotion that made it what it is. I look forward to next year, but let's rest first!
Love always,
Cory

Young Republican Club, 1985-1986: Pres. — Cory Wilson, V. Pres. — Noel Grafe, Sec./Treas. — Michael Harvey, Donna Stewart, Steven Dugger, Craig Cowart, Cynthia Sistrunk, Darlene Miller, David Barber, Chris Ayers, Murray Jardine.

CAMPUS CONSERVATIVES

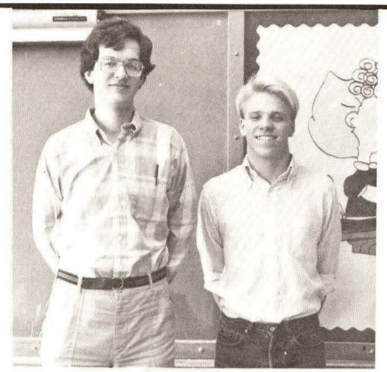
The first officers of the Young Republican Club of MPHS were proud to work hard for the new club.

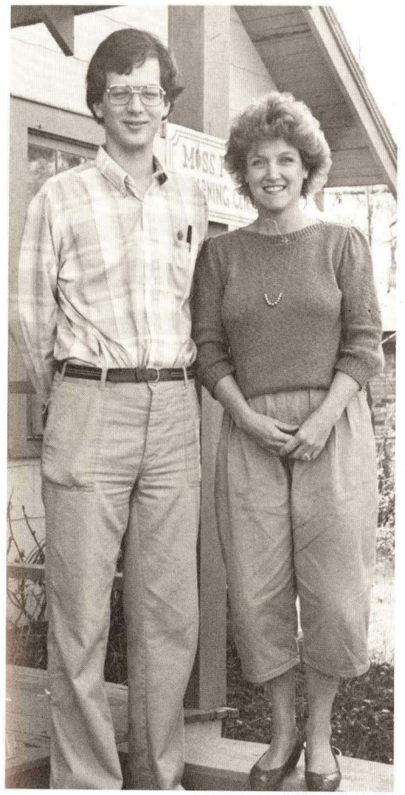
There was a new club at MPHS this year — The Young Republicans. The members of this infant club were interested in spreading conservative ideals throughout the school and community, and they were certainly Reagan-fans.

Two of the club's goals were to give students a desire to take part in government and to support the "Grand Old Party" — the Republicans!

Ron Krotoszynski and Murray Jardine attended the Youth Congress in Jackson.

Amy Benigno, Craig Cowart, and David Barber submitted papers to the Science and Humanities Symposium at Ole Miss.





Journalism awards were given to Claudia McInnis, Susanne Jensen, Monica Roberts and Cory Wilson.

One of the many honors bestowed on Ron Krotoszynski this year was the Star Student Award. The award was based on Ron's outstanding achievement in school, including an excellent ACT score. He was also one of two in the state of Mississippi selected for a Century 3 Grant.

The star teacher this year was Mrs. Beverly Alexander. She taught Ron throughout junior high in the LIFT program, and her influence made a positive impact in Ron's high school years.

Kim Harkley was awarded a full tuition scholarship this year from Dillard University in New Orleans. She was chosen for her outstanding academic and citizenship qualities.

Math and Science Team, 1986: Vince Hartwell, Murray Jardine, Steven Dugger, Brian Fuller, Phyllis Roberts, Rene Clark, Rhad Carter, Keith Price, Tony Grierson.

Physics students participated in a bridge-building competition in January. Steve Richmond, Robin Marion, Michael Sipp, and Kim Harkley won the contest, which was sponsored by the Mississippi Engineering Society.

"FUTURE HOMEMAKERS"

Ms. Millender and Mrs. Shepherd contribute their time as FHA sponsors.

"FHA" stands for "Future Homemakers of America". FHA is a home-economics oriented club that is for students who plan to manage a household when they enter adulthood. It focuses on the trials, tribulations, and responsibilities that homemakers of the nineties and beyond will face. Budgets, children, and other obligations are examples of problems that these FHA members will face.

The FHA club's Thanksgiving project was a trip to the Singing River Nursing Home.

Mrs. Mary Ruddiman — Geography Teacher — World Traveler

"I've been here," says Mrs. Ruddiman.

Mrs. Ruddiman began her travels in the West Indies where she visited Cuba, Jamaica, Haiti, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. She studies in Mexico City and in the Yucatun Peninsula of Mexico, climbed the Mayan temples and saw other Mayan ruins. She continued her travels in two countries in Africa, Kenya in East Africa and Ghana in West Africa. In Kenya she flew in a small plane over the Masai Mara game reserve and visited camps to observe the wild animals in their natural habitat. In West Africa she was a guest in the homes of Ghanaian friend. She learned about their culture and admired the Ghanaians sense of responsibility, their warmth and understanding, and their hope and optimism. Mrs. Ruddiman has recently traveled to a number of European countries — England, France, Switzerland, Austria, West Germany, East Germany, Greece, and Italy. In the future she hopes to travel wherever people live and wherever planes fly. She urges all young people to travel. She believes that not traveling is like reading only one page of an exciting book!

Couples on Campus

A few of our faculty members arrived at MPHS "together". For the most part, married teachers see very little of each other during the day.

Mr. & Mrs. Stricklin mix work and marriage. Actually, they rarely see each other during the school day.

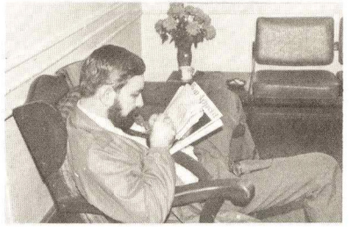
Teacher Lounge, Teacher Retreat

The lounge belonged to the teachers — they deserved it! Behind that closed door, teachers could relax for one short hour. It was a place for grading papers, planning lessons, eating lunch or taking a break and playing Trivial Pursuit!

Many teachers agreed lunch tasted better in the lounge.



Mr. Dean stayed one step ahead of us all by working crossword puzzles and playing Trivial Pursuit while out of class.

Only one class ring can really fit you. And Campus Supply has it.

Your class ring should be as unique and special as you are. And it can be, when it's from Balfour. Because you choose the style, the stone, the decoration, the engraving—to create a class ring that is yours alone. Your own personal class ring from Balfour. No other can express who you are so exactly. Or help you recall those special times so clearly.
